IPT Fleet: Safety and Quality Go Hand in Hand

For more than 40 years, IPT had a distinctive yellow color and emblem all over its stations and fleet across Lebanon promoting its unique values of quality, advancement and safety. We have been working hard to ensure a continuous improvement on all levels and to meet the increasing market demand while staying environmentally responsible. This is why we recently launched the advanced eco-friendly fuel “Quantum”.

Today, Quantum is an essential part of IPT trucks' branding. In parallel to delivering high-quality products, our trucks are managed by a team of experts to also monitor operations on the ground by making sure all safety standards are applied when loading and transporting the products. Inspection, preventive maintenance, and safety training are an integral part of our daily operations. Read more

A Green Christmas is What We Are Looking For!

The countdown is ON. Almost 1 month till Christmas. Greener than ever, our Christmas tree has just landed at IPT headquarter in Amchit reflecting our green approach, and reminding visitors and passers-by about staying Green this holiday. Let's all act more responsibly towards the environment. Read more

Green Holidays' Tips

The holidays are a wonderful time of the year. However, it also puts enormous stress on the environment, increasing household waste by up to 25% and resulting in a staggering in huge quantities of food thrown in the trash. Here are 2 tips that help you take some pressure off of the environment during the holidays:

- Cut Down on Waste: To combat some of the waste, try to use only reusable bags for shopping and wrapping, or re-purpose existing trash and recyclables for under your tree, including newspaper and old clothes.
- Save energy and resources: As the temperatures drop and snow falls, cranking up the fire uses a lot of energy. Instead, keep your thermostat at a lower, reasonable temperature and pile on the blankets, to save energy and cut down on your bill. Read more
