The 1st Urb-Hackathon in the Middle East, organized by IPTEC & e-EcoSolutions

Do you have a novel idea for reducing Air Pollution that you want to develop into a viable project? Would you like to stand out, boost your professional qualifications, and get a certificate from France? Are you looking to reshape the urban landscape in Lebanon, and be recognized as a leader in urban thinking?

Under the patronage of the President of the Council of Ministers His Excellency Mr. Saad Hariri, IPT Energy Center (IPTEC) and e-EcoSolutions with the strategic support of Berytech, the Order of Engineers & Architects of Beirut, UNDP, GCNL, and the French Embassy in Beirut are organizing the Urb-Hackathon in Beirut, under the theme "Data-Urbanism: Reducing City Air Pollution from Transport". The Urb-Hackathon will take place for the First time in Lebanon and the Middle East, after France and Korea, with the support of La Cité Des Sciences Et De L'Industrie in Paris:

- Date: 1, 2 & 3 March 2018
- Location: Berytech Mar Roukoz (USJ- ESIB Campus).
- Register before 15 February 2018. Read more

Sustainability

What is the "Urb-Hackathon"? The Hackathon is a sprint-like event in which passionate university students, entrepreneurs and professionals form groups, and meet to work on resolving addressed problems in a limited time frame, and in the most technological, advanced and innovative ways and then turn these ideas and suggestions into projects that can be implemented by concerned authorities to solve the problems experienced by Lebanese cities, or at least to help solve them. Check album1 from Previous Urb-Hackathons in France at "La Cite Des Sciences Et De L'industrie- Paris", and in Korea. And check album2 featuring the first Lebanese Certified FabLab tools that participants will use to fabricate and transform their ideas into working prototypes and innovative products.
