Abu Dhabi crude is preparing to make its way to Europe for the first time in two years as the European Union seeks replacements for Russian oil, Reuters reports. In May 2020, a shipment of Abu Dhabi crude was loaded for Italy, and there have been so shipments since, according to Arab News, citing Refinitiv Eikon data. According to Reuters, citing shipping reports, France Total Energies has “provisionally chartered a tanker” to load Abu Dhabi crude in early May, bound for Europe. A total of 1 million barrels of Murban crude—one of three Abu Dhabi grades—will be loaded provisionally, bound for Britain in the first week of May.

✓ SAVE ENERGY EVERYDAY

Myth: Fans alone can keep your house cool and save energy.

Fact: While ceiling fans do make you feel cooler and more comfortable in hot conditions, they create a chilling effect on your skin, which doesn't mean your room is actually cooling down.
