

"Basic of Communication Skills" Training at IPT Headquarters

Because no success is attained individually, and team work is the key, IPT management organized a workshop for all its employees to help them develop their communication skills. The workshop was led by Mrs. Désirée Khoury, the Managing Director of QMS Engineers, and took place at IPT headquarters on Saturday the 30th of March and aimed to empower their verbal and non-verbal communication style, and relational skills. Employees listened attentively to the theoretical part and engaged in the practical part creatively... Read more

Energy Sustainability

EAA 2019: Is Renewable Energy attainable?

If you think 100% renewable energy will never happen, think again. Several countries have adopted ambitious plans to obtain their power from renewable energy. These countries are not only accelerating renewable energy installations but are also integrating renewable energy into their existing infrastructure to reach a 100% renewable energy mix.

What are Renewable Energy sources? Solar power can be used directly for heating and producing electricity or indirectly via biomass, wind, ocean thermal ... Read more
