In Video: Dr. Toni Issa Receiving the "Forbes- Lebanon 100" Award

IPT's Success Story was recognized by Forbes Middle East "Lebanon 100" gala event organized for the first time in Lebanon to celebrate the achievements of Lebanon's top and most influential business leaders who contributed to the country's economic growth, out of whom was Dr. Toni Issa, IPT Vice Chairman and IPTEC President. Dr. Issa who received an award in recognition of his achievements and the successes of IPT, explained that innovation, the proactive approach, the constant growth strategy, and the understanding of today's energy and environmental challenges, are the strength points which IPT relied on to become one of the leading oil and gas companies in Lebanon.

Energy Sustainability

Did You Know?

Did you know that 1.5 million volunteers broke the record for planting 66 million trees in 12 hours to make India green again? Watch video. Locally, what is being done in this regard?

IPT's commitment to energy sustainability is supported by the activities of its Energy Center IPTEC which since its inception in 2012, has put so much efforts to raise awareness on sustainable solutions that can reduce energy consumption and fight the detrimental effects of air pollution on our health and environment resulting particularly from the land transport sector in Lebanon. Many initiatives were taken in this regard especially with the Lebanese youth whom we believe are Lebanon's future decision makers. To this end, IPTEC collaborated with Fabriano to encourage students from all over Lebanon to express their eco-friendly ideas and solutions through art under the themes "Be the Eco-Drivers of Tomorrow" and "Walk & Bike More to Improve the Environment and Health".
