In a country where the pollution is invading air, ground and water, it is important to take action. Because any small initiative today will have its impact on the future, any company in the private sector, university, vocational school, youth innovation or municipality that has successfully implemented a project in the fields of Renewable Energy, Energy Efficiency & Conservation, Mitigation of Climate Change or Innovation in Energy, deserves to be recognized.

IPT Energy Center (IPTEC) in collaboration with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and under the patronage of Her Excellency Minister of Energy and Water Nada Boustany Khoury, is organizing the 2nd edition of the Energy Awareness Awards (EAA) to recognize efforts put forth by institutions and organizations in reducing their energy footprint and integrating sustainable practices within their respective fields. Energy Sustainability
