IPT's Year 2020 in Review

This has been a year like no other, a year of uncertainty, but we got through it the only way we know how – together. As we look back on 2020, we remember a year dominated by revolutions, uprisings to an economic crisis and a global pandemic. This film features how IPT continued to embrace the difficulties, finding ways to adapt to the situation against all odds. Through our resilience, we hope we all emerge towards a brighter future in our country for the upcoming year 2021.

OPEC+ Emerges From 2020 Chaos to Face Delicate Balancing Act

Source: Bloomberg

As one of the most tumultuous years in oil's history ends, a delicate task now confronts OPEC+.

The alliance of producers led by Saudi Arabia and Russia must decide whether it can continue to restore crude supplies without capsizing the price recovery they spent most of 2020 working to achieve. Moscow believes that the group -- which slashed output during the pandemic -- can revive another 500,000 barrels a day of idle capacity in February, on top of an increase scheduled... Read more

In Lebanon we are proud to meet International standards. At IPT, the modern branding aims to be eye catchy with its bright yellow reflecting the sun or blue highlighting the sky. Throughout the years, we ensured that our architecture is up to date with its time as well as user friendly.

The IPT Sustainable Station in Amchit highway can compete with the most beautiful stations. Read more
